SOVIET ULTIMATUM CAME LIKE BOMB

EUROPE JITTERY AGAIN OVER WAR THREAT IN SPAIN

FEARED RUSSIAN MOVE TO BRING COLLAPSE OF NON-INTERFERENCE PLANS

(By The Associated Press.)

An ultimatum from Soviet Russia, threatening open support of Madrid unless fascist states hew to neutrality in the Spanish civil war, gave new and grave concern today to worried Europe.

Informed observers, viewing the flat Russian demand that Italy, Germany and Portugal stop their alleged military backing of Spain's insurgents, feared collapse of the carefully built international non-intervention agreement.

They saw the international situation surrounding war-ripped Spain as entering its most serious phase.

On the war front, fascist insurgents tightened their lines around Madrid at many points and demanded immediate surrender of the capital, under threat of destruction by bombardment from land and air.

They were within striking distance of Madrid.

Madrid's weary militiamen fought on to defend their shrinking territory with unflinching stubborness. In the rolling cuntry-side about 25 miles southwest of the capital, they held commanding, but hard-battered, positions.

Stories from the fascist lines in the Sierra de Gredos mountains, near San Martin de Valdeiglesias, told how insurgent cavalrymen, in difficult terrain, left their horses to fight their way from one government ambuscade to another on foot.

RUSSIA DECLARES INSURGENTS RECEIVING AID FROM CERTAIN NATIONS

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Official Britain, plainly angered by an open Russian threat to repudiate the Spanish non-intervention pact because of alleged violations by fascist states, determined tonight to attempt to curb such recriminations.

Confronted with what some believed might become the gravest European crisis since Germany's defiance of the Locarno Pact, the British government assumed the unenviable task of peacemaker for tomorrow's meeting of the international neutral committee.

She sought to keep the soviet warning from spreading into a showdown fight between fascism and communism.

Officials patenly were irked by Moscow's airing of her views outside the committee, the members

Circus Elephant Killed Keeper In Beaumont Today

BEAUMONT, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Lee Roberti, about 20, of Springfield, Mass., was instantly killed when he was crushed beneath the feet of Tribly, faithful one-eyed elephant with the Barum and Bailey and Ringling Brothers Circus showing here today. Witnesses said that the elephant, startled, when Roberti approached her to put a collar over her head, grabbed him with her trunk, threw him against the wall of the, elephant car in which she was kept and when he fell to the floor placed her foot on his head.

Lawrence Davis, head elephant trainer for the circus said that the tragedy occurred when Roberti, in violation of the circus rules did not speak to the elephant before approaching her. Davis explained that elephants sleep standing up and that when workmen enter the cars they are taught to speak to the beasts to wake them up before approaching them.

ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT STILL IRED RESULT FOKKER STATEMENTS

SENATE MUNITIONS COMMITTEE DECLARES MATTER CLOSED INCIDENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Elliott Roosevelt's negotiations with Anthony H. G. Fokker to sell airplanes abroad were labeled a closed incident today by the senate munitions committee head but from Texas came word that the principal had other things in mind.

The President's son said at Fort Worth he would go to New York soon to consult counsel regarding the statements Fokker made in a munitions committee deposition. One of the statements, which Roosevelt denied, was that he contracted to sell military airplanes to Russia for a $500,000 commission.

"I believe my rights as a private citizen of the United States have been infringed," Roosevelt said.

His expressed resentment, however, did not include Chairman Gerald P. Nye, the committee's head.

Nye, in saying that "so far as the munitions committee is concerned the incident is closed," asserted yesterday that "since no sales were made, it is obvious that the President's son did nothing illegal."

Fokker's deposition said the terms of the contract were not carried out. Except, it contended, that $5,000 was paid young Roosevelt before the agreement was cancelled.

G. W. Stratton, sales executive of the airplane manufacturing concern at Santa Monica, Calif., said he received $5,000 from Fokker for expenses in 1934, when the contract was in force, but that to his knowledge Elliott "did not receive any money."

DAYTON DEAN, BLACK LEGION TRIGGERMAN, SENTENCED TO LIFE

LIFE SENTENCES WILL BE PRONOUNCED FRIDAY ON SEVEN OTHER MEN

DETROIT, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan sentenced Dayton Dean, Black Legion "executioner" and state's informant against fellow terrorists, to life imprisonment today for the killing of Charles A. Poole.

Denouncing the hooded order for its racial and religious prejudices, Judge Moynihan proclaimed Poole, who was shot to death after false gossip that he mistreated his wife, "a martyr to the cause of civil and religious liberties."

He told Dean: "As you walk among your fellow prisoners, keep in mind that you are being supplied with the creature comforts which, because of your crime, are being denied the widow and children of Charles Poole."

Dean, who will serve the life term in southern Michigan prison, said:

"I am glad it's over. I hope no one else gets in the same jam. I'm glad also that the organization was broken up."

Judge Moynihan announced he would pronounce mandatory life sentences tomorrow on the seven defendants of first degree murder in the Poole case.

Four other men, convicted of murder in the second degree, will be sentenced Saturday, the judge said.

Bank of France Reduces Rate On Its Rediscounts

PARIS, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Bank of France, decreasing its discount rate to the lowest point during the regime of the socialist Blum government, disclosed today a 7,000,000,000 franc ($359,424,000) rise in the value of its gold reserves.

In revaluing the national gold stock, the conversion was made on the basis of a franc containing 49 milligrams of gold the minimum devaluation called for under the new currency law.

(The old gold anc contained, by law, 65.5 milligrams, so that the value adopted in setting a figure on the gold stock was equivalent to a devaluation of 25.2 per cent.)

The latest statement of the Bank of France, which is as of October 2, showed gold holdings of 57,358,742,140 francs (equal to $2,844,944,000 based on francs of 49 milligrams gold) compared with 50,111,283,675 francs ($2,485,520,000 on the same basis) shown in the statement of September 25.

The gold increase was announced in the first weekly statement of the bank since devaluation of the franc. It was coincident with a decrease of from 3 to 2 1-2 per cent in the discount rate, in keeping with France's new easy money policy.

The reduction was the second since devaluation of the franc. Last week, when the Bourse resumed operations, the rate was dropped from 5 to 3 per cent to facilitate the flow of capital into productive enterprise following the cut in the gold content of the franc.

The rate on advances against securities was reduced from 4 to 3 per cent today and on 30 day loans from 3 to 2½ per cent.

HOUSE REFUSES TO TAKE UP INCREASED OIL TAX MEASURE

LAWMAKERS THEN RESUMED CONSIDERATION OMNIBUS TAX BILL

AUSTIN, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Another move to give a proposed oil tax increase right-of-way in the house of representatives failed today by a vote of 96 to 28. A like motion was defeated yesterday.

The house then resumed consideration of the James-Frazer omnibus bill, which would increase levies on natural resources, utilities, amusements and a wide variety of things.

First action was elimination of a proposed tax of two cents a ton on stone. Levies on salt, gravel, sand and shell previously had been stricken despite warnings by some that the bill drawn would fall far short of revenues needed to support old age pensions.

The senate began discussion of a bill to provide for Texas participation in benefits of the federal unemployment insurance program. The house already had approved a bill on the same subject. Unemployment insurance was one of the two primary purposes for which the session was convened.

Governor Allred's latest proposal to meet the pension emergency issuance of interest bearing deficiency warrants elicted considerable discussion.

FREIGHTER AGROUND TODAY JUST OUTSIDE THE GOLDEN GATE

POUNDING SEAS PLACE THE LIVES OF FORTY-TWO MEN AND OFFICERS IN DANGER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Pounding seas smashed the waterlogged freighter Ohioan, aground just outside Golden Gate, and placed a crew of 42 men and officers in jeopardy today.

The Coast Guard expressed doubt plans to float the vessel off Seal Rocks would be successful.

Although Capt. L. M. Read told the marine superintendent of the American Hawaiian Line that the crew was in no danger, the Coast Guard reported waves were sweeping the deck, and the vessel might be considerably damaged.

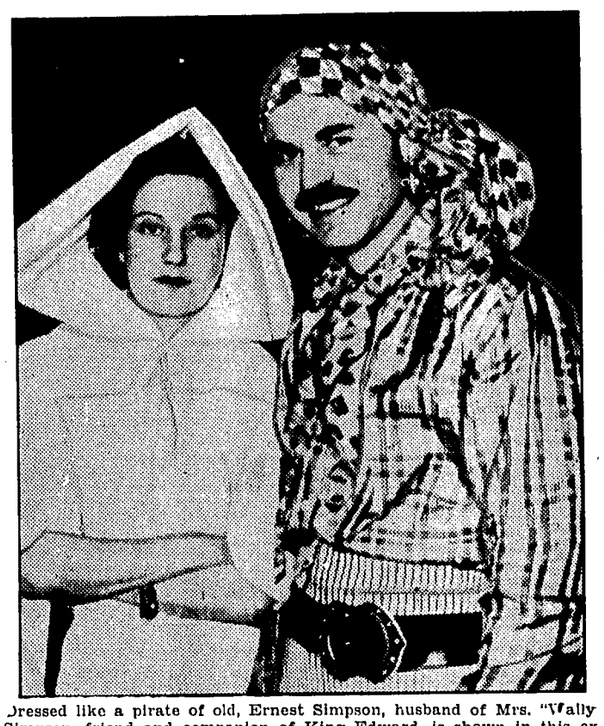

The engine room crew was ordered on deck when water began gushing into the engine room. A breeches buoy was rigged from the ship to the shore, 100 yards away, ready for use if needed.

The Ohioan hit the rocks on San Francisco, ocean beach shortly before midnight while groping through a thick fog.

Two hours later the Coast Guard received a report the Swayne and Hoyt freighter, Point Brava, and the trawler New Monterrey, sideswiped off Point Montara, 22 miles south of here. No other details were reported. The cutter Arladne was dispatched to stand by.

No ship has ever been saved from the spot where the Ohioan struck.

Shirley Temple Sued for Million Dollars by Hays

HOLLWOOD, Calif., Oct. 8.—(AP)—A $1,000,000 suit hung over the blonde curls of Shirley Temple today.

It was filed by Jack Hays, film producer who declares he is responsible for the amazing success of the 7-year-old star.

Named co-defendants with Shirley were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Temple; Twentieth Century-Fox, her studio employer, and the California Bank and Trust Company.

Hays charged in his complaint that the Temple repudiated a contract signed January 23, 1932, under which he agreed to train the child for the screen and get her services exclusively for a two-year period.

Hays set forth that under his direction Shirley was schooled in histrionics and put into six one-reel pictures. Her success, he said, was entirely through his efforts.

PROMINENT ITALIAN STATESMEN ARRIVED AMERICA THURSDAY

PAPAL SECRETARY STATE AND NEW AMBASSADOR ON DIFFERENT MISSIONS

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Staff Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Italy's new ambassador, Fulvio Suvich, talked over the United States war debt situation "in general" with Premier Mussolini before sailing for America, he said today on arrival of the Conte Di Savoia.

On the same liner came Eugenia Cardinal Pacelli, first Papal secretary of state ever to visit America, for what he termed a vacation. He refused to discuss Father Charles E. Coughlin's political activities, but he would not deny, either, that he was spending the coming month in America "watching over" a situation in which the Holy See is known to be deeply interested.

Ambassador Suvich, speaking haltingly and with great care, said that he "can not predict within a year re-opening of conversations regarding Italy's war debts."

"I do feel, however, he said, "that devaluation of currencies has paved the way for reconsideration of the situation. Revaluation makes for improvement of foreign trade, the lowering of tariff barriers, and with improved international trade comes increased currency with which to meet obligations."

Suvich succeeds Count Rossi, former ambassador here, now ambassador to Russia.

INCREASE OF NEARLY HALF MILLION BALES OVER SEPTEMBER 1

TEXAS PROSPECTS DECLINED BUT OTHER STATES SHOWED IMPROVEMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The department of agriculture today increased its forecast of the cotton crop this year 488,000 bales above the September 1 estimate. The crop reporting board forecast production of 11,609,000 bales, based on reported conditions the first of the month.

During September, the federal crop experts said, cotton prospects declined in Texas, principal producing state, but this loss was more than offset by improvement elsewhere.

The board said drought damage in states from Mississippi west was ended by rains in September. "The rain came too late to materially help cotton in Texas and Oklahoma," the report said, "but in the states adjoining the Mississippi river the crop was greatly improved."

The rains were said to have halted premature openings of cotton bolls which results in decrease in yield.

Favorable weather improved the crop in the eastern part of the belt since September 1, it was said, with plants making rapid progress to offset a late start.

The cotton crop in and the Carolinas was reported still subject to damage by early frosts, while rapid opening of the bolls was said to have exposed a large amount of cotton to possible loss from storms.

SHARP TEMPERATURE DROP OVER TEXAS AS NORTHER MOVES IN

COOL WAVE REACHES TO MEXICAN BORDER BUT NO FROST IN TEXAS

By The Associated Press

A cool wave from the Rockies penetrated to the Mexican border today, and temperatures fell sharply over the Southwest.

There was freezing weather in northern New Mexico and West Texas mercury readings ranged down into the low forties. Frost was reported at Roswell, N. M., but none in Texas.

Scattered rains fell over the eastern part of Texas, extending as far south as Corpus Christi and Brownsville. Tyler, with 1.8 inches, had the heaviest rain in months while precipitation was lighter at Houston, Port Arthur, and Galveston. Brownsville had .01 of an inch and Dallas a trace.

The crisp westerly wind dropped the temperature to 42 at Amarillo. This was about 10 degrees higher than the seasonal low,

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Department of Agriculture reported today this year's cotton crop, as indicated by October 1 conditions, would be 11,609,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

A crop of 12,481,000 bales was indicated August 1 this year, and 11,121,000 bales were indicated on September 1. Last year's production was 10,638,000 bales and that of 1934 was 9,636,000 bales.

The condition of the crop on October 1 was 61.8 per cent of a normal, compared with 72.3 per cent on August 1 and 59.1 on September 1 this year, 64.0 on October 1 last year, and 56.2, the 1923-32 October 1 average.

The indicated yield of lint cotton on October 1 was 186.9 pounds per acre, compared with 199.7 pounds on August 1 and 179.2 on September 1 this year, 186.3 produced last year, and 169.9, the 1923-32 average.

Ginning to October 1 this year were reported by the census bureau to have totaled 6,030,940

TEXAS OYSTER BEDS ARE GIVEN HIGHEST RATING IN NATION IN MATTER FREEDOM FROM PESTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The fisheries bureau has given Texas oyster beds the highest rating in the country from the standpoint of freedom from pest infestation.

"Our surveys down there showed the pests were almost negligible—at least conditions on the gulf coast are better than any other part of the country," said Dr. Paul S. Galtsoff, oyster expert of the bureau.

Dr, Galtsoff said he saw no need for an oyster control project on the Texas coast and added that the Lone Star state probably would be omitted from the list of states where the bureau will undertake new programs in the near future.

"If we can get the appropriation from congress, we would like to develop about three oyster experiment farms, probably in Apalachicola Bay and along the middle Atlantic coast, but there is no need for one in Texas," he explained.

"Although it looks as though we couldn't help right now, the Texas interests might be able to get a special appropriation for a farm or develop one of their own independently.

"It would be much better to spend money that way than to consider trying to get rid of what pests they have, such as the clam borer and the big borer."

The bureau's investigation in Texas disclosed only a few "bad" spots, Dr. Galtsoff said—in Corpus Christi, Matagorda and Galveston Bays.

"Texas has so much fresh water in its bays and the pests are much more susceptible to that condition than the oysters so nature takes care of the beds," he added.

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS OF TEXAS OPPOSE SUGGESTION

JAIL SENTENCE FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATORS SOUGHT BY CHIEF PHARES

DALLAS, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Law enforcement officials of Texas' larger cities turned chilly shoulders today to the proposal of Chief L. G. Phares of the state highway patrol that traffic violators be punished by jail terms instead of fines.

Only Chief R. L. Jones of the Dallas police department concurred in Phares' suggestion, made before a national safety conference last week at Washington, D. C.

"The law should be changed to make a fine or jail sentence optional with the judge," said Jones. "This would eliminate the cause of many accidents."

Austin Corporation Court Judge J. W. Maxwell disagreed.

"The traffic violator is not necessarily a criminal," he said. "Therefore I don't favor jail sentences. They would have a demolarizing effect on violators under 21 years of age. More than half of our violators are under 21."

Police Chief B. W. Payne of Houston raised another point. He said: "We couldn't enforce it on everybody and therefore it wouldn't work. It wouldn't do to

HABITS OF LOWLY SHRIMP TO BE STUDIED BY U. S. BUREAU OF FISHERIES; CATCH IS LARGE

By BEN GRANT
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The habits of the shrimp—how long he lives, where, and how abundant is his kind—are being studied at the bureau of fisheries.

"We don't know very much about him," said Elmer Higgins, the bureau's chief of scientific research, "but we are a little concerned, because the average catch for the last five years has been about 100,000,000 pounds and it is increasing." Ultimately the danger point may be reached.

A year ago the bureau set out to tag the shrimp in southern waters hoping to learn something about his habits. This season the experiment is being carried on again, and on a large scale.

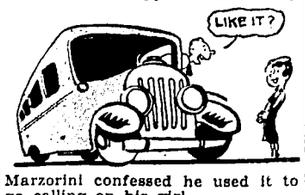

Last year's tagging revealed, Higgins said, that shrimp move northward in summer and back

CHINA CLIPPER SPEEDS OVER PACIFIC IN ITS "UNEVENTFUL" PASSENGER-CARRYING PREMIERE

Associated Press Staff Writer.

HONOLULU, Oct. 8.—(AP)—With 17 hours and 48 minutes actual flying time behind us, the China Clipper alighted here shortly after the scarlet dawn amidst songs, and handclasps of greeters.

Great leis were hung about our necks by Hawaiian girls as we stepped out on the landing boat. Officials followed with congratulations on the completion of the preliminary passenger flight to Honolulu, en route to Manila, from Alameda, Calif.

Our approach to Hawaii was signalized by the appearance of army and navy planes which flew close to our wings.

Rapidly we approached the great island of Oahu on which Honolulu is situated, circled once across the city and then, turning in gradual descent, dropped down to the smooth surface of Pearl harbor, adjacent to America's greatest naval base. The official reception followed.

FRAZIER, SOUTHWEST NO. 1 BAD MAN, TO FACE MURDER TRIAL

TAKEN IN CHAINS TO LOUISIANA TO FACE CHARGE PRISON GUARD MURDER

HOUSTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Charles Frazier, bad man No. 1 in the Southwest, headed toward Louisiana in chains today to face a possible death sentence in the slaying of an officer during a prison break three years ago.

Frazier was removed for the Eastham prison farm, where he was serving a life term for robbery at Grapeland, to the main prison at Huntsville a few hours after Governor James V. Allred signed extradition papers. He then was brought here and turned over to Louisiana officers at midnight. They started back with him immediately.

In granting the extradition Governor Allred said:

"Take him and welcome but I warn you to watch him. He is unquestionably the toughest man in the Texas penitentiary."

The Louisianans took his advice. Six officers, all heavily armed, formed Frazier's escort. Some of them rode in a second car, a machine gun trained on the desperado.

Frazier led a break from the Louisiana Angola prison in which 11 escaping convicts killed Cap-

AMBASSADORS IN PRISON SET FREE BY THEIR SOVEREIGN *

Dramatic Episode In Proud City of Philippi---- Prisoners Sing at Midnight----Plight of Baffled Jailer, And His Deliverance.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Spain's civil war has created a number of dramatic incidents in connection with foreign ambassadors and ministers. But no diplomat has suffered the ignominy that came to the first foreign ambassador of the Christian church, the Apostle Paul and his comrades.

Occasionally he flashed forth with an assertion of his rights and dignity, as in the present Lesson upon his imprisonment in proud and historic old Philippi. Then the cowering magistrates came to their knees at the feet of the one whom they had punished and imprisoned ignominiously.

When Preaching Rubs The Raw.

Last week we left Paul comfortably established in the home of Lydia, a successful business woman, and his first convert on his western campaign. But disturbing events soon followed. On the way to a prayer meeting, a soothsaying maid followed him, crying out his identity as a representative of the Most High God. Paul cast the evil spirit out of the girl, thus wrecking her money-making power, and setting her mercenary masters hot upon his trail.

It was an old story repeated. Big Business and blind bigotry had crucified Jesus. At Ephesus the apostle was one day to be mobbed again by a crowd incited by the temple silversmiths, whose business he had hurt. In our day, more than one preacher has lost his pulpit because he affronted business in the pew. The recent General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church was threatened—happily, in vain—by a group of laymen who objected to the utterances of the church upon current social problems. When preaching rubs the raw of the exposed money nerve there is likely to follow the same sort of consequences that dogged Paul at Philippi. The apostle was concerned to liberate an afflicted girl; her employers were interested only in the money they derived from her pitiable plight. It was the old, old issue of human rights versus property rights.

Babble-Rousers Get Busy.

Political campaigns in the United States and Canada have brought forth rabble rousers, demagogues skilled in inflaming the baser passions of the unthinking. They are in succession to similar politicians throughout the ages. Such men in Philippi, with the moneyed interests in the background, raised the hue and cry against Paul and Silas, and haled them before the magistrates on false charges of a pseudo-patriotic character.

"Vox populi" always sounds loud in the ears of office-holders; so the magistrates were quick to strip the prisoners and beat them with many stripes and thrust them into an inner dungeon, with their feet in the stocks.

What a pitiable plight for ambassadors of the Most High! Were they down-hearted? Not a bit of it; these men were made of real ambassadorial stuff. No tears or groans over their hard fate; no whimpering or self-pity. They knew how to endure hardness, and even to rejoice in tribulation. So, with the caked blood not yet dry on their beaten backs, and their feet painfully locked in cruel stocks, they prayed and sang—sang at midnight! Even the other inmates throughout the prison heard their jubilant music, precursor of the songs that the martyrs would sing in catacombs and coliseums of death. I wish we knew the words of their songs. Perhaps they were the familiar Psalms; probably they were also the new songs of Christian faith and joy; for the church has been from the first a body of singing disciples. Show me the man or woman who sings during trials, and I will show you a stout and victorious spirit. Souls may ever triumph over bodies, and faith over fate.

The Earthquake Messenger.

One unique support every believer in God may have—the knowledge that his Master is Lord of the universe, with a diversity of infinite resources at His command. Angels and men, storms and calm, flood and drought, earthquakes and tranquility, all are His messengers. The particular errand boy that God sent to deliver His ambassadors from the Philippian jail was an earthquake, which shook the foundations of the prison, opened every door and broke every stock and shackle.

We wonder whether the shocks that are nowadays coming to human society around the world are not also God's messengers, to set men's spirits free, and to direct them to the Great Reality.

This is bed-rock faith, that, somehow or other, an overruling Providence, an all-wise and allable God, is working His purposes out. Things may look as black as they looked to an outsider for Paul and Silas, deep in a dungeon. But Jehovah still sits on His throne in the heavens, ruling over all the affairs of earth, with watchful eye. And we have Scripture for it that God's chief interest is man; even as man's chief interest should be God. The honor and well-being of His ambassadors is as His own.

The Frantic Jailer.

Individual incidents throw most light on great events. Out of the chaos of the Philippian earthquake emerges the figure of the jailer, aroused from sleep by the crash of falling walls. He sees his prisoners free, his own honor gone. In the Roman tradition, he draws his sword, and is about to slay himself, when a loud voice arises above the tumult, "Do thyself no harm!"

It was Paul, no longer a prisoner, but, as often, master of the situation. Somehow, the frantic man understood the causative relation of Paul to the drama; and the proud Roman fell at the prisoners' feet, crying "What must I do to be saved?"

Probably that plea meant only a desire to know how he would escape from his present predicament. He was asking only political and official safety. But he got more than he asked. Like Saul, who went in search of asses and found a kingdom, the jailer sought physical safety and found, instead, spiritual salvation.

In life's great dilemnas and crises, human beings need to hear the words spoken by Paul to the Philippian jailor: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house." That goes for every personal need and for every social emergency. In finding Jesus Christ, we find the way out from every peril, from every problem, from every predicament. Personal faith is the solution of social perplexities.

CONTRACTORS PUSH WORK ON HIGHWAY 22 IN NAVARRO COUNTY

RAINS HAVE RECENTLY INTERFERRED WITH THE HILLSBORO HIGHWAY ACTIVITY

Contractors are pushing the work on the completion of the dirt work as fast as weather conditions will permit on Highway 22 from near Pinkston to the Hill county line via Barry, Blooming Grove and Frost, a distance of 17 1-2 miles. This announcement was made Wednesday morning by M. L. Bowers, resident state highway engineer.

Rains have stopped the work between Frost and the Hill-Navarro county line east of Mertens. Approximately 1 1-2 miles of dirt work remains to be done in that sector, engineers have reported.

All of the bridges have been finished. The finishing up work on the dump between Barry and Blooming Grove is in progress at the present time.

The new Highway 22 road between the end of the slab at Pinkston to the Hill county line has been closed to traffic and the old road is being used.

Engineer Bowers said that he believes the contractor can finish the dirt work between the end of the slab to Blooming Grove by Nov. 1. When this is done, the state highway department will take the sector over for maintenance. It is hoped that the black land sector of the road can be sanded in order to make the road usable during the rainy season, although no official announcement to that effect has been made.

State maintenance crews are continuing the repairing of damage done highways in the county during the recent floods and high water.

Nearly Half Inch Rain Fell Monday Night In County

A shower fell over Navarro county Tuesday night and was followed by a light norther. The rainfall in Corsicana was .41 of an inch and reports indicate it was just about the same over the county.

Cotton picking was delayed again, but will be resumed Thursday if no more rain falls. No material damage was done by the rain which fell slowly.

Four Counties Placed In Pink Boll Worm Area

AUSTIN, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred by proclamation today placed four counties in the lower Rio Grande Valley, Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr and Willacy, under regulations for the purpose of eradicating pink boll worms discovered in that area.

The governor acted on recommendations of the pink boll worm commission of Texas, which conducted a hearing at Harlingen and reported infestation at Matamoros and Reynosa, in the Tamaulipas, Mexico, and in the United States at Brownsville and San Benito, Cameron county, and Rio Grande, Starr county.

"In view of these infestations and the fact that the counties of Cameron, Willacy, Starr and Hidalgo are adjoining and may be considered a continuous cotton area, it is our opinion they should be considered as a whole," the report said.

The governor said the unregulatde intrastate movement of cotton and cotton products from the infested area would seriously jeopardize cotton production of Texas and obstruct channels of trade.

His action was under authority of a state law.

Texas Rangers at Palace Sunday

The vast deserts and rocky plains of New Mexico and Texas were used as a background by King Vidor in directing his historic film of the old Southwest, "The Texas Rangers," coming Sunday to the Palace theatre with Fred MacMurray and Jack Oakie in leading roles. The picture, second made for Paramount by Vidor, immortalizes the band of men who made Texas safe for the pioneer settlers of the 1880's. Combining a sweeping panoramic view of early Texas with a romantic, action-filled story of high adventure and romance, "The Texas Rangers" is based on true records of the exploits of one of the world's most famous organizations of peace officers. Jean Parker has the leading feminine role, appearing as the daughter of a commander of a Rangers unit which MacMurray and Oakie join. Lloyd Nolan is cast as a famous Texas "bad man" of the time, Sam McGee. Others heading the list of supporting actors include Edward Ellis, Bennie Bartlett and a score of outstanding character players. Wars of the Rangers with wild Indian tribes, and their exploits in driving cattle thieves, stage robbers and outlaws of all kinds from the state, are a part of the plot. One of the most thrill-packed sequences records the final Indian battle which resulted in complete submission of the marauding tribes which had harried settlers throughout the early eighties.

SIX FOOTBALL GAMES SCHEDULED INVOLVE NAVARRO COUNTY TEAMS

Corsicana High elevens are in action this week with important conference engagements carded in Corsicana and Hillsboro.

Corsicana Tigers, with one victory to their credit, invade Frazier Field, Hillsboro, to battle the favorite Hillsboro Eagles in a District 11-A conference afafir, one of the most important grid sessions of the current week in the University of Texas Interscholastic league. Hillsboro's imposing record in non-conference games against Class A opponents has placed the Feathered Tribe in the favorite post over the Bengals, a condition that has not existed for years. Hillsboro's record is much more imposing than that compiled by the Junglebeasts. However, the record of the Hill countaians is not bothering the Bengals and their supporters as they prepare for the game which will determine definitely whether the Piercemen are potent factors in the District 11-A campaign of 1936 or whether the Bengals are not to be considered as a ranking combination.

Many tough struggles have been unreeled between these two clubs in past years. A capacity crowd will witness the game Friday night at Hillsboro and hundreds of Corsicanans will swell the attendance to say nothing of the representation from Waco and Cleburne. Many Waxahachie enthusiasts en route to Waco where Waxahachie meets the Brazos Bengals will stop in Hillsboro for this melee. Cleburne Jackets are at Lubbock this week and Johnson county will be well represented.

Lads vs. Malakoff.

In the only game of the week in Corsicana, the State Home Lads, rested and in good condition following their battle two weeks ago with the I. O. O. F. Home Lynx, will oppose the Malakoff Tigers in a District 27-B conference tilt. Malakoff has a powerful club and packs a considerable punch on the gridiron.

The I O. O. F. Home Lynx will go to Ferris Friday afternoon to meet the Ferris eleven.

Other Navarro county teams engaging in grid contests this week-end include:

Frost at Dawson, conference game.

Kerens at Ennis (District 27-B.)

Ben Hur at Blooming Grove.

MORE INFORMATION EARLY JOURNALISM IN NAVARRO COUNTY

Some interesting sidelights on journalism in Navarro county in the early days of Texas are presented in a letter received recently by Mrs. K. W. Sneed of Wortham from Frank C Van Horn, Christival, former resident of Corsicana. Parts of his letter, self-explanitory, follow:

"My father, R. A. Van Horn, came to Anderson, Grimes county, Texas, in 1847,, and established the Central Texan, and in the early 50's he established the Navarro Express, and printed it during the 'War Between the States,' and while he was commissary for the Confederate government. Sometimes he printed the Express on yellow straw paper, as he couldn't get white paper from E. H. Cushing at Houston, who published the Houston Telegraph.

"In 1866 he bought the Corsicana Observer (which had only been published a short time) from Dan Donaldson, which my father published until his death in 1877. At the age of 19 I had my disabilities removed in court, and published the Observer until 1885 and sold it to Miller & Tarver, who sold it to H. A. Halbert, and he sold it, and it changed hands several times afterward. I have not lived in Corsicana since 1885.

J. W. Fishburn published the Corsicana Index, Charles Dalton published the Corsicana Courier, J. L. Harle published the Corsicana Truth. I do not remember the dates of publication."

Numerous efforts have been made in recent years to secure a complete history of newspapers in Corsicana but several gaps remain. Residents of Corsicana and Navarro county who have accurate definite information concerning the history of Corsicana or Navarro county papers can aid materially in the task of compiling an accurate record of the publication if they will send in the information they have with its source to the Corsicana Daily Sun or the Corsicana Semi-Weekly Light at once.

COOL WAVE

which occurred when a light "norther" moved into the state a week ago. The mercury fell to 44 at El Paso, 48 at San Antonio and 46 at Del Rio. Abilene and points in East Texas were cooled by 50-degree weather.

The weather bureau charted a low barometer area over Central Arkansas which was likely to keep the East Texas weather unsettled for the next 24 hours. It was clear in the western part of the state. The Rio Grande Valley was in line for slightly warmer weather tomorrow.

Corsicana was cloudy, with a low temperature last night of 55. The mercury climbed to 61 this morning. Corsicana had no rain or frost.

At Paris, the mercury dropped from 66 to a low of 45. Light mist dampened northeast Texas today.

FRAZIER

tain John A. Singleton. He was indicted Tuesday and Sheriff T. H. Martin of West Feliciana parish, Warden Lewis Jones of Angola prison and four other officers rushed to Texas to seek his custody.

Texas penitentiary authorities said Frazier had escaped prisons numerous times. The most sensational were the Angola break and the one in which Raymond Hamilton and Joe Palmer escaped from the death row at Huntsville in July, 1934. At that time Frazier was shot down by a guard and left behind by Hamilton and Palmer, who were recaptured later and executed.

BLACK LEGION

WPA worker, and testimony that Black Legion men were incited against him by false gossip that he beat his wife, Judge Moynihan said:

Poole Declared Martyr.

"It is unbelievable that such a crime could be committed in cold blood and without emotion in this so-called enlightened age.

"Charles Poole was a martyr to the cause of civil and religious liberties."

Dean, two-gun "executioner" who calmly told of shooting Poole on the order of a Black Legion superior officer, was the state's star witness in grand jury investigations and in the trials of fellow members of the secret society.

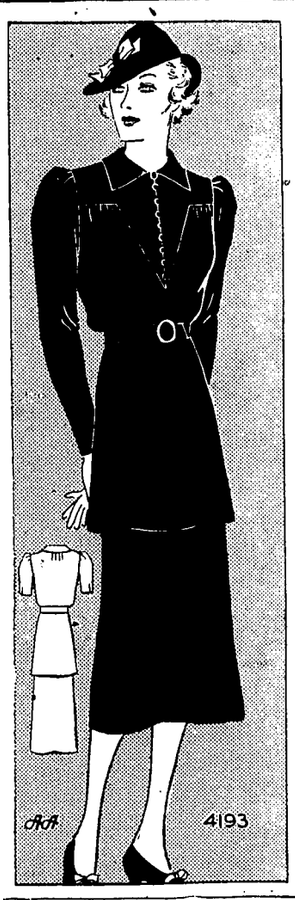

Under the glares of men facing long prison terms as the result of his testimony, Dean revealed what he contended were wanton killings by Black Legion night-riders, and told of "death squads" and "arson details" ordered into action by leaders who ruled their hooded subordinates with the fear of floggings and death.

Routine police investigation that followed uncovered widespread activity in the Detroit area by the terrorist organization. Fifteen cases against Black Legion members, including one that charges a plot to seize federal buildings and arsenals, remain to be tried.

A Detroit grand jury brought indictments for criminal syndicalism, based on the alleged coup d'etat, against 22 persons.

LEGISLATURE

the pension fund. The proposed diversion previously had encountered rocky sledding.

Rep. J. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, one of the spokesmen for the diversion proposal said he was willing to drop it if the other plan could be effected. He pointed out, however, that the governor's most recent suggestion was based on the legislature's raising sufficient taxes to care for pensions after the emergency had passed and this still was in doubt.

The house adopted a resolution authorizing the state treasurer to act as the disbursing officer for counties and road districts in their road bond payments due shortly. This would enable the local units to save on exchange charges. Because of differences between the house and senate resolutions, senate concurrence was necessary.

New Proposals For Payment of Pensions

AUSTIN, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The legislature today pondered two additional proposals to provide immediate funds whereby pension payments could be maintained through November, December and January.

Since Governor Allred's original suggestion that $3,000,000 be transferred from highway funds in the present emergency met with strong opposition, he has proposed issuance of interest-bearing warrants to pensioners.

The third method, a bill by Senator John Redditt of Lufkin, provides diversion of $3,000,000 from the general state fund to the old age assistance fund.

Ready response greeted the governor's second proposal yesterday. Immediately after his message was read, the house state affairs committee returned a favorable report on a bill authorizing interest-bearing checks and a similar one by Redditt was referred to committee in the senate. The warrants will carry a maximum of 5 per cent interest and will be cashed by banks at face value.

Banks to Co-Operate.

Legislators were informed by the governor that the social security board in Washington had indicated it would match funds for pension payments provided the warrants were not discounted and banks had promised co-operation. Bankers assured the governor, he said, they would pay the checks if the plan was legal and the legislature passed revenue bills sufficient to pay them ultimately.

Meanwhile, the house continued deliberations of the James-Frazier omnibus bill. Floor work started yesterday with downward revisions in spite of warnings it would fail to produce needed pension funds.

With levies on salt, gravel, sand and shale stricken and insertion of timber and gypsum refused, 10 cents a ton was added on quicksilver ore and 5 cents a ton on other ores, 10 cents on marble and two cents on stone were up for consideration.

ITALIANS

a priest significantly vacation-bent, sailed into New York harbor today aboard the Conti Di Savoia.

Far apart as their stations were the tasks ahead of His Excellency, Fulvio Suvich, succeeding Count Rossi as Italian ambassador to the United States, and Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state to Pope Pius.

With the former mild, soft-spoken man of 49, who was born an Austrian citizen, came the job, if it's to be done, of negotiating resumption of Italy's payments on the two and a half billions of war debts owned the United States.

The cardinal's visit officially was entirely informal, for the purpose of seeing America for the first time. But those close to affairs of the church saw behind the cardinal's sudden trip the intent of the pope to have here his own observer in the final stages of Father Charles E. Coughlin's speaking campaign.

When he sailed from Naples Cardinal Pacelli said, "I am going to America simply on a vacation. I have a great longing to see the United States. There is no political aspect to my trip whatever."

Already echoes and re-echoes of papal displeasure have come through the visits of two bishops to Rome, and the apology of Father Coughlin for having called the president a liar in one of his addresses.

Both Ambassador Suvich, who will present his credentials immediately at Washington ,and Cardinal Pacelli, grey nobleman of 60, scheduled to visit a few weeks as the guest of Mrs. Nicholas F. Brady, on Long Island, are renowned as diplomats abroad.

into Florida's warmer waters in winter. Ony one-fourth those tagged were accounted for and the buerau's big problem is what happened to the other three-fourths.

"We believe—although we are not sure about it—that the shrimp lives only a year," Higgins said. "It is entirely possible, however, that instead of dying of old age after about 12 months, he moves into deeper water."

Already this year's tagging has been started on the Atlantic coast off Beaufort, N. C., Charleston, S. C., Savannah, Ga., Fernandina, St. Augustine and New Smyrna, Fla., about 100,000 ocean shrimp will be tagged, Higgins said, and another 5,000 along the Texas coast.

TRAFFIC LAWS

jail a business man because he happened to make a mistake in traffic, possibly for the first time in his life."

Said Corporation Judge Phil Shook of San Antonio: "Persons guilty of graver offenses should be jailed, I think. But, for minor violations, such as passing red lights, double parking and making left turns—I think the fines are sufficient."

San Antonio's police chief, Owen W. Kilday, echoed the sentiment with: "I don't think persons found guilty of minor traffic violations should be jailed. Of course, I think hit-and-run drivers and drunken drivers should get strong sentences."

Phares told delegates to the National Accident Prevention conference: "Unless drastic measures are taken the public fails to realize the seriousness of its acts. Jail sentences will result in an immediate reduction of violations and a consequent lowering of the accident rate."

Phares also urged civic organization conduct campaigns against the "fixing" of tickets, which, he contended, encouraged widespread traffic violations.

State laws now limit punishment for such violations to fines.

the flying boat. "We should arrive uneventfully."

Uneventfully—that is the whole tenor of this trans-pacific idea. Spanning the Pacific ocean in a series of flights between tiny island bases over the 8,000 miles from California to Manila as passengers will do regularly beginning Oct. 21, isn't a sporting stunt in the eyes of the veteran crew.

"After five or six crossings," explained First Officer F. S. K. Lewis, "the novelty lessens."

All of the crew, from Captain to steward, are utterly business-like about the whole thing as they drop in and converse with us in the salon where passengers spend their waking hours.

The salon is 11 by 13 feet. Compare this to the size of your living room. We sit and talk across the salon in tones pitched only slightly higher than normal.

Keep a Good Laxative always in your home

Among the necessities of home is a good, reliable laxative. Don't be without one! Do your best to prevent constipation. Don't neglect it when you feel any of its disagreeable symptoms coming on. . . . "We have used Thedford's Black-Draught for 21 years and have found it a very useful medicine that every family ought to have in their home," writes Mrs. Perry Hicks, of Belton, Texas. "I take Black-Draught for biliousness, constipation and other ills where a good laxative or purgative is needed. I have always found Black-Draught gives good results."

FILE APPLICATION FOR LOCATON OF HOSPITAL UNIT HERE

A formal application for consideration as the possible location of the "Texas Warm Springs" hospital unit, was filed with Charles F. Ashcroft of Sulphur Springs, Texas, general chairman of a location group, by a special committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon following the second meeting on the proposal.

A brief setting out the advantageous location of the city, existing medical and hospital facilities, easy access from all parts of the state, thereputic qualities of artesian waters, and other points will be filed with the committee within the near future.

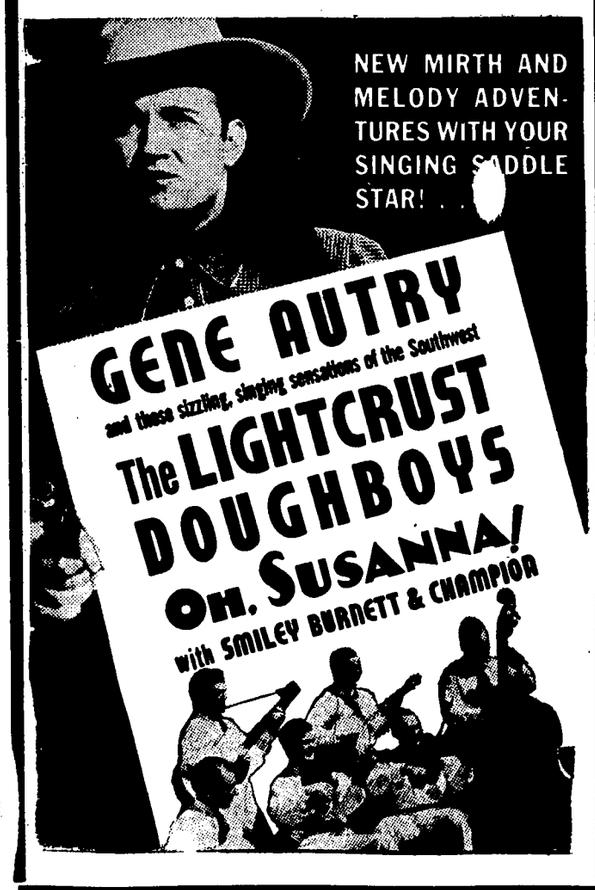

The formal application was filed after the committee headed by President E. W. Ellis of the Chamber of Commerce, had heard reports that the plans called for a convalescent hospital unit where proper attention could be given children victims of infantile paralysis after the initial or major treatments. It was pointed out that land, a building, and possibly a cash donation would be required to secure the establishment, but the committee decided that these qualifications could be faced when the proper time arrived.

Ted B. Ferguson was named chairman of a special sub-committee to prepare the brief bolstering the application of Corsicaan for consideration as the hospital site.

CORSICANA, TEX., OCT. 9, 1936

NICE HIT TUNES

The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers has just given out its analysis of the radio hit tunes of 1935. A song's popularity is measured by the number of times it is broadcast. The theory is that if a song is going out over the air pretty frequently it is also being played for dancing at restaurants, night clubs and tea rooms, sung at private parties, played in public and at home, and hummed by casual strollers everywhere.

A mere citizen, recalling the mad whirl of "The Music Goes 'Round and Around," may wonder whether universal humming and playing means popularity or popular obsession. The Society's figures are based on a whole year's performance, however, and novelty songs that rise suddenly and disappear in a month or two lose out in the long count.

According to the analysis, no new musical trends developed in 1935. The love theme remained the favorite, provided it was set to a good melody. The songs with the highest rating were all "pretty nice, jolly, sweet, clean songs,"

Nineteen songs were broadcast at least 20,000 times. Isn't that a few times too many? There are radio fans who grow weary of a tune they liked very much at first when it is sung or played on several programs every evening. The analysis ought to have some method of counting the number of times a family groans in chorus and turns the dial when a hit tune come over the air too often.

GAS MASKS ALLOWED

It is reassuring to learn from London that gas masks are not "war material" in a hostile or aggressive sense, and so may be shipped to Spain or any other country in time of war, without violating arms embargoes. All the governments seem to agree about it.

Civilians, who haven't had much consideration recently in war plans and practices, will appreciate this privilege. It's quite a concession for hostile powers, actual or prospective, to say that when a man, woman or child puts on a gas mask as a defense against death from suffocation, it isn't a hostile act against invaders. Peaceful people have at least one right left.

There will still be, no doubt, some unreasonable civilians arguing that the whole poison gas business is outrageous anyway, and they don't want to be obliged to wear gas masks to protect them from a weapon which should be outlawed by all civilized nations. And it's hard to answer that argument, except to remind them of the Russian who, after voluntarily wearing a gas mask day and night for three weeks, reported philosophically that it wasn't so bad when you get used to it.

"There is growing up," says Newton D. Baker, World War secretary, "a generation that has no knowledge of what the war was about or why we were drawn in." And the generation that fought the war seems just as hazy about it.

When people nowadays pay their debts, it's to make their credit sound for the next loan.

Leaders who insist on our neutrality in foreign politics won't stand for it at home.

CAMPAIGN WISE MEN.

It is strange about my grocer!
I was sure he knew his tea
And his sugar and his onions but I never dreamed that he
Was a scientist and scholar, stocked with all the lore of man
And could settle every problem till this campaign time began;
But today while buying apples I was backed against the wall
Where I had to stand and listen
—and I found he knows it all.

I had always thought my barber
had an ordinary mind,
One for shaving and for clipping
hair most perfectly designed,
But I find him so much wiser
now the campaign booms along
For he took an hour this morning just to tell me what it wrong.
He has very fixed opinions on all matters grave and small.
Elder statesmen should consult him, for I'll swear he knows it all.

I have six or seven relations who are little known to fame.
But each one could run the nation if the call to do so came.
Now the campaign fires are raging and at times they visit me;
I am forced to sit and listen
meekly, yes, and patiently
While they tell with calm assurance why great statesmen rise and fall,
And there's nothing I can answer—since they seem to know it all.

COMPANY COMING TO JAPAN

The Japanese, it is reported, are already preparing for the 1940 Olympic Games. This refers to the whole Japanese people, not merely the athletes who will compete for honors.

Store clerks, policemen and business men are learning to speak English. Study of the language has received a great impetus throughout the country.

Furthermore, the ways of foreigners are being explained to Japanese citizens, who are urged to be gracious not only in their own way but in ways that will meet foreign understanding. For example, a customary and friendly Japanese salutation includes the inquiry, "How old are you?" This, the authorities explain, is curiously distasteful to foreigners, especially women, so Japanese are to learn not to say it.

Will fundamental Japanese tact and national determination to be the perfect host to Olympic visitors persuade Japan to set aside, temporarily at least, its ambitions in China and its provocative attitude toward Russia?

ASTRAL EMPIRE.

The League of Nations at its present session started with another crisis, and a curious one for disinterested onlookers. It concerns Ethiopia.

Turn for a moment to the Ethiopian capital. The foreign diplomats who were stationed there under the old regime are mostly still on the job, but there is no job. When the Italians occupied Addis Ababa and announced official possession of the country, the government to which those diplomats were accredited apparently ceased to exist. Now the British, French, American and other representatives are recognized by Viceroy Graziani merely as "friendly and gentlemanly private citizens." They can only wait for the rains to pass and entreat the Viceroy to fix up the polo field for them.

But in Geneva it is different. There the ancient African empire still lives. The Ethiopian delegation has been seated, despite the energetic protests of Italy. In that delegation, too, is an American citizen, E. A. Colson. He is there by appointment of Emperor Selassie, and of course doesn't represent the United States government.

Thus the status of Ethiopia is strangely doubtful. The Italians have obviously not got it all subdued yet. Haile Selassie claims that most of it is still loyal to him. And apparently it still exists as a sovereign state, as far as the League of Nations is concerned. But from this distance, Selassie's empire seems no more than an astral body.

They talk about "stabilizing" dollars, francs, pounds, and so on: and yet, even with this new agreement, the purchasing value of dollars will bob up and down.

Who, me? Scared of the November elections? What nonsense!

DUMB OWLS.

Another ideal is shattered. Col. H. P. Sheldon of the Biological Survey, at Washington, says flatly: "The owl is a fool, and you can quote me as saying so."

So people have been wrong about it all through the ages, from the time of the ancient Greeks who associated this bird with Athena, the goddess of wisdom, down to the present day.

"The owl," explains Col. Sheldon, "has been credited with wisdom mainly because of his silence; but like a lot of people, he doesn't say much simply because he doesn't know anything to say."

The serpent has been credited with wisdom from earliest times, even more than the owl, probably because he didn't say anything at all.

There's a lesson here for all of us. Anybody can destroy a reputation for wisdom by talking too much. The shrewd person talks only enough to make people think he could say something if he wanted to.

TOWN SOLD.

The little town of Kinlock, Pa., twenty miles from Pittsburgh, was sold at auction the other day. It was a "company-owned" coal town of about 1,000 inhabitants. The company had shut down the mine because it was unprofitable, and was selling out. It was, according to current economic views, a natural and legitimate proceeding.

The general store and community house brought $4,475, being bought by a woman who evidently had more faith in the place than the coal company had. The "company houses" went for $100 to $250 apiece, at which price they may or may not have been bargains. The tenants, mostly unemployed and moneyless, were uncertain of their fate.

That coal mine was the town's leading industry. Most of the miners are remaining there for lack of any other place to go, wanting work, but with prospects very slim. Of course they cannot be allowed to starve and freeze. Somebody will have to provide for them, probably the federal government.

That town is interesting for the human problems involved and for the economic problems it represents. What is to be done with such a community? Surely modern industrial civilization has some constructive answer.

KERENS BAPTISTS RAISED LARGE SUM AT SUNDAY SERVICE

KERENS, Oct. 6—(Spl.)—At the regular morning services Kerens Baptists subscribed $2407 to apply on church building debt. Previous to Sunday a goal of $2288 was set as being the amount necessary to pay on prinicpal and interest for this year. The amount was oversubscribed within 30 minutes.

The Baptist church building in Kerens was erected in 1925 at a total cost of $75,000. After Sunday's total collection is applied there will remain only $2250 total debt on the building. Rev. W. A. Corkern, former pastor, now of Baton Rouge, La., was largely responsible that the church was built, and he has requested that he be permitted to pay in the last $10 necessary to complete the building debt. Present plans are that the entire debt be paid next fall and Rev. Corkell be asked to come to Kerens and preach the dedicatory sermon.

SOIL CONSERVATION WORK EXPLAINED BY CCC TECHNICIAN

T. K. Morris, technician at the Corsicana CCC camp, was the principal speaker at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Lions club at the Navarro Hotel, and gave an interesting explanation of the soil conservation work being done in Navarro county. A. S. Vann and R. A. Caldwell had charge of todays' program.

Dr. L. E. Kedlton, Sr. appointed Boyce Martin and Hugh Bryant as next week's program committee. Visitors today were F. O. Killion and G. G. Hayes of Fort Worth and Tom Rogers of Houston.

President Kelton read a list of major activities sponsored by other Lions clubs, and suggested an activity for the Corsicana club. He suggested that easch week each member make a voluntary contribution of five cents which will be put into a fund to assist a worthy Corsicana boy to go to State University. Considerable discussion resulted from the suggestion, but the vote passed.

Boyce Martin announced the annual Camp Fire Girls drive which opened today.

Mr. Morris, introduced by Mr. Caldwell, said the work of the soil conservation corps is to keep soil and moisture at home. He pointed out that the government spends millions of dollars annually dredging silt out of river deltas, while the the work should be done at the other end of the river, to save the land.

He said soil erosion experimental stations have been established, and one at Temple showed that last spring, during the heavy rains, many tons of soil were washed off a single acre of black land.

He outlined the procedure gone through when a farm was to be worked by his organization, and explained at least three processes utilized. The methods include terracing, strip-cropping and planting level rows on hilly land.

TEXAS CAMPAIGN FOR ROOSEVELT-GARNER MOVING SMOOTHLY

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS PREDICT MILLION TEXANS TO VOTE THE TICKET

AUSTIN, Oct. 8.—(Spl.)—With less than a month until the national election, Nov. 3, the campaign in Texas for Roosevelt and Garner is operating like clockwork, with all units co-operating and with quotas coming in steadily to the headquarters of Roy Miller, campaign director in this state, It is a real Democratic campaign, judging by the activity, rallies and meetings being held in all of the counties.

As a result of this Miller and Myron Blalock, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, predict that 1,000,000 Democrats will go to the polls Nov. 3, breaking all Texas records for general elections.

John Garner, vice-president; Congressman Sam Rayburn, Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard, together with Miller, show why it is more necessary than at any time in past Texas history to get out a big Democratic vote this year. Since the national convention has abrogated the two-thirds rule in making nominations, in the future delegate strength at national conventions will be based on the number of votes cast in the general election. Unless all Democrats vote there will be danger of losing strength and prestige in the national conventions and in Washigton government affairs, and at present Texas is preeminent in control of party and government matters. This should never be sacrificed, and to maintain this power the vote of every Democrat and a contribution, no matter how small, is needed.

Three or Four to One.

Texas will go three or four to one for Roosevelt. As to the national result Director Miller is supremely confident that Roosevelt will be re-elected, and he bases this on advices from party leaders in doubtful states, leaders who have had to know the facts. While contributions have been satisfactory the national war chest needs much more and promptly. Democrats do not have the sources of big wealth to go to that is available to the Republicans.

Nearly a dozen counties have completed their quotas and have forwarded the money, including Travis, Smith, Duvall, Bosque, Culberson, Kerr, Crockett and Winkler. Smith and Travis counties exceeded their quotas. Where Smith county was assigned $2,108, it turned in to headquarters $3,750. Where Travis county had a quota of $3,200, it turned over $6,100, doubling the amount, and leaders say they will run it up to $7,500. These are records that help out Roosevelt and thereby help out the masses of people.

Although serious floods in the San Angelo area caused some delay, E. E. Murphy, chairman of the twenty-first district, and his committee are putting their shoulders to the wheel and raising funds. Murphy made a classic, real American statement that should be a lesson to people in every state. He said:

Administration Responds.

"The administration has responded nobly in our flood crisis in furnishing money to the W.P.A. for repairing damage done by the flood in San Angelo. This work has given employment to hundreds of men and I find the same co-operation has been extended in all other parts of West Texas. There is not the slightest doubt that Roosevelt will be re-elected by a tremendous majority despite what a lot of Republican-minded straw votes show."

Bert King reports progress in fund raising at Wichita Falls, seeking $3,000, while W. H. P. Anderson, Paris, is active in getting up $1,878. Up in Amarillo Mayor Ross Rogers has a vigorous committee raising $3,500. But the activity is just as great in the sixth district, where Will Hooks, Itasca, is chairman. The Hillsboro Mirror reports that business men and farmers of that district are co-operating, and adds: "Hill county received so much money in the agricultural program and from other agencies of the New Deal that it is felt that nearly every citizen will want to help re-elect President Roosevelt. Business institutions that never take part in politics have become interested in this campaign because there is no question that Roosevelt brought back prosperity."

Such Democratic, yes patriotic, statements as these help a lot, and headquarters receives them from all over the state. Your vote and a contribution will put Roosevelt, good government and humanity back in power again.

A round of social events for princesses to the Court of Queen Yam, II, and a conference football game between Gilmer and Atlanta will hold sway during the afternoon.

An elaborate pageant climaxed by the coronation of Queen Yam, II, and the Queen's Ball will fill the night's program.

Saturday, Oct. 24, will open with the horse and colt show during the morning, followed by an amateur hour, the end of the golf tournament and awarding of prizes to winners in the many contests on the three-day program. The fete will officially close with appropriate exercises following the afternoon program.

A carnival and many fere street attractions will also add to the festivities.

AGRONOMIST ADDED TO TEXAS A. AND M. FACULTY MEMBERSHIP

DR. IDE P. TROTTER HAS LONG AND EXTENSIVE RECORD IN RESEARCH

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 8.—(Spl.)—Dr. Ide P. Trotter, new head of the department of agronomy at Texas A. and M. College, comes to the Texas institution following a long and extensive record in research, instructional and extension work. For more than ten years he was Extension agronomist at the college of agriculture, University of Missouri, leaving that post to take over direction of the agronomy department at the Texas college.

Following the death in 1932 of Dr. J. O. Morgan, then head, the department of agronomy was combined with the department of genetics under the supervision of Dr. E. P. Humbert, head of the genetics department, who served as head of the combined department. With the addition of Dr. Trotter to the faculty, the two teaching divisions will function separately again, Dr. Humbert giving his full time to genetics.

Dr. Trotter was born in Brownsville, Tenn., Dec. 12, 1895. He received B. A. degree from Mississippi College, Clinton, in 1915; B. S. degree in 1918 and M. S. degree in 1921 from Mississippi A. and M. College. He did work toward his Ph. D. degree at the University of Missouri, 1924-27, and took his doctor's degree in 1933 at the University of Wisconsin.

Other Assignments.

He was assistant principal at Hernando high school in Mississippi, 1915-16; director of agriculture at Base Hospital School for Wounded Soldiers, Camp Travis and Fort Sam Houston, 1918-19; graduate assistant in agronomy at Mississippi A. and M. College, 1920. Prior to becoming extension agronomist at the Missouri College of Agriculture in 1923, he did research work at the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station and at the Delta Branch Experiment Station at Stoneville.

Since 1933 he has served in various capacities in the federal agricultural program, having been in charge of the federal cotton plow-up program in Missouri in 1933, in charge of the AAA program in eighteen counties in Southeastern Missouri in 1934, and agronomic advisor to the AAA and soil conservation program administration in 1935-36. Dr. Trotter is a member of numerous professional and learned associations.

His addition to the Texas A. and M. College faculty is, in the words of Dean E. J. Kyle of the school of agriculture, "in college to strengthen and enlarge keeping with the program of the the work in crops and soils for the preparation of young men for this work for which there is an increasing demand in the nation."

Three Thousand Dollar Debt Lifted From Frost Church

FROST, Oct. 8.—(Spl.)—Following a three weeks' campaign to raise $3,000 to pay off the indebtedness on the First Baptist church of Frost, it was announced at the noon services Sunday by Pastor D. P. Cagle that the committee was within $300 of the goal. This amount was quickly underwritten by five members and immediately the pastor announced that the church was paid for in full.

The present church was built following the disastrous cyclone of 1930. It is a most modern building with basement and was built to meet the modern Sunday School specifications of the board of the general Baptist convention. The cost was approximately $10,000.

Superintendent of Sunday Schools, L. A. Morgan, announced that in his canvass he found everyone apparently eager to help lift the debt. Even those of the membership who do not attend services with any degree of regularity were as responsive as the regular attendant. The church has a membership of approximately 300.

The canvass followed a series of services recently held at the church which was classed as the most successful revival the church has had since the beginning of the depression. At that time approximately fifty members were added to the church roll and the membership quickened much spiritually.

The dedicatory sermon is planned to be had following a series of sermons to be held the first week in November.

ROCKEFELLER GOES TO FLORIDA WINTER HOME ON THURSDAY

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Assisted by two men, 97-year-old John D. Rockefeller, Sr., boarded a private train today for his annual trip south to his winter estate, "The Casements," at Ormond Beach, Fla.

The train was drawn up on a siding at the freight station and the Rockefeller automobile drove up the ramp onto the loading platform so that he could step directly into his private car without climbing any steps.

He wore a black overcoat and on the lapel was a Landon campaign button.

The special train consisted of a locomotive, a regular passenger coach and a private car, the "Glen Arden."

Rockefeller's departure ended one of the most uneventful of his stays at Golf House in recent years. He came here toward the end of spring, apparently in good health and celebrated his 97th birthday in July. In previous years apprehension for his health had been freely expressed, but this summer passed without known grounds for such anxiety arising.

KURT BJORKVALL RESCUED FROM SEA BY FRENCH TRAWLER

SWEDISH FLIER FAILS IN HIS ATTEMPTED NEW YORK-STOCKHOLM FLIGHT

VALENTIA, Irish Free State, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Kurt Bjorkvall, rescued near this Irish island after being forced down on a direct New York to Stockholm flight, sailed today toward La Rochelle, France, leaving his plane in a rough sea.

The French trawler Imbrin, which picked up Bjorkvall yesterday afternoon, changed its course from Valentia to its home French port after its crew failed in an attempt to salvage the flier's plane.

Bjorkvall was aboard the trawler—uninjured and in good health. The plane was seriously damaged by a rough sea.

The Imbrin is due at LaRochelle early Monday, but has no fixed itinerary and the captain may decide to put in at some other port.

The airplane and trawler made contact on a moderate sea during a moonlight night about 10 miles off Ireland's west coast. "Bjorkvall saved," the trawler radioed.

Information as to the safety of the 31-year old aviator reassured three anxious watchers at Stockhalm's airdrome. His widowed mother wept with joy. Maud Dickson, pretty 16-year-old Swedish girl to whom Bjorkvall before his takeoff said he was engaged, when told of his failure, exclaimed:

"What a pity! But don't you think it's fine of him, all the same?" Beside her stood her mother, the Baroness Inger Dickson, Stockholm society leader.

The Imbrin's master announced he would take the flier's monoplane in tow. He said Bjorkvall was "minding his apparatus."

Aviation experts here expressed belief the Swedish pilot must have been out of fuel when picked up.

Baroness Is Pleased

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Baroness Eva von Blixen-Finecke, left behind by Kurt Bjorkvall as he began his attempted New York-Stockholm flight Tuesday, hailed today his rescue by a French ship when his plane was forced down Wednesday some 100 miles off the Irish coast.

"I am so glad Kurt is safe," cried the Baroness, who spent two months in hopes of accompanying Bjorkvall, only to have him decide at the last minute to fly solo.

"I am sorry I did not go along," she said. "I would not mind a little water. It is hard to understand how he ran out of his 795 gallons of gasoline. He must have struck some very bad weather."

AUSTRIAN POLITICAL CRISIS ASSUMING AN OPERA BOUFFE ASPECT

THREATS OF SLANDER SUIT AND DUEL CHALLENGE NEWEST FEATURES

VIENNA, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Austria's political crisis assumed an "opera bouffe" aspect today as a duel challenge and slander suit threats shunted attention from a cabinet meeting.

The ponderous machinery of an "honor court," modern Austria's compromise with the romantic code duello, was set in motion to consider the challenge hurled by Major Emil Fey, "ousted" heimwehr leader, at Prince Ernst Von Starhemberg, once co-dictator of Austria.

The challenge came as a climax to the bitter fight for control of the powerful heimwehr (home guard) between Starhemberg and Fey.

Starhemberg charged Fey's conduct at the assassination of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss was "never satisfactorily explained."

Stung, the fiery Fey demanded "a settlement in keeping with the tradition of the Austrian army."

If he does not obtain his "vindication" through the honor court, it was learned, Fey may seek it in a law court. His attorneys have prepared briefs for submission to Starhemberg's attorneys demanding redress.

Spain, said 300 persons were killed in an insurgent aerial bombardment of Aranjuez.

Several bombs fell on a loaded troop train, the dispatches said, and a railroad station and section of track were destroyed, breaking communication between Madrid and Alicante.

Novel Designs Shown for Fall Styles

Here are three new costumes which are particularly appropriate for this time of year. The leopard coat is cut in a straight swagger line and has a pointed yoke back. The hat is of black Austrian velour and folds high on one side. The gray kid coat is fashioned along coolie coat lines and is trimmed with gray braid. And the black antelope hat has a high Directoire crown with red cockade. The fall suit is a four-piece affair of brown and tan tweed. It has a knee-length jacket which buttons straight down the front over a straight skirt. The back of the coat is pleated and the cape has a double collar and square shoulders. Such an ensemble is practical for quite cool weather.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Eager buyers came into the cotton market today following publication of the government's crop report for Oct. 1, showing an increase in the estimated production of nearly a half million bales.

Prices, after brief hesitation, recovered about $1 to $1.50 a bale from the lows early in the day immediately on the resumption of trading which was suspended during the reading of the report.

Prices leveled off a bit later and around noon showed improvement of 90 cents to $1 a bale from the prices preceding the report and about 55 to 60 cents a bale gains from Wednesday's close.

TWO NEGRO GUNMEN STEAL AUTOMOBILES, COMMIT ROBBERIES

BLACKS ELUDE POSSE AFTER DEPREDATIONS AT WILLS POINT AND TERRELL

TERRELL, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Two negro gunmen who perpetrated a series of robberies and automobile thefts here and at Wills Point last night eluded posses near Cobbs Switch today.

They stole three automobiles in Wills Point and one in Terrell, taking the latter from Tom Spero, restaurant operator, who was accosted about 2:30 a. m. in front of his home after he had closed his establishment.

Apparently the negroes' only purpose in taking the cars was to obtain transportation for their raids on filling stations.

They held up one Terrell filling station and took about $2.50 in change. At another station they failed to get any cash.

Earlier in the night they entered the Calloway filling station at Wills Point, broke open the cash register and took an undetermined amount of cash and checks.

A few minutes later they entered the McNeely Sandwich Shop and took all the money they could find. They forced a young woman attendant to stand against a wall, with her hands over her head. They threatened her with pistols.

There was an unconfirmed report that other negroes were waiting outside while the two entered the sandwich shop.

They stole three automobiles parked on the streets and drove west to Terrell. The cars all were recovered later, abandoned on the highway.

A posse of officers from Terrell and others from Wills Point converged on Cobbs Switch, a station east of Terrell, when it was reported the desperadoes were hiding near there. The officers failed to find any trace of the negroes, who were believed to be afoot.

of which were pledged from the start to work privately.

(Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Great Britain turned a swift diplomatic hand today to patch a menacing break in the wall of European non-intervention in Spain.

Stirred by a flat Soviet ultimatum threatening to aid the Madrid government if fascist states do not "stop" helping the insurgents, allegedly with guns, planes, and other sinews of war, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden broke off his Monaco holiday and turned toward home to personally direct British policy.

In the wake of the Moscow warning came reports that other countries, as yet unnamed, would question alleged breaches of the "hands-off-Spain" pact at tomorrow's London meeting of the European non-intervention committee.

There also was the latent threat of open hostility in the Mediterranean, should Russian ships seek to land supplies at Spanish government ports guarded by fascist warships.

The Moscow ultimatum was delivered to representatives of countries signatory to the non-intervention pact in London last night. It detailed alleged shipments of arms, planes and even poison gas to Spanish insurgents, specifically naming Germany, Italy and Portugal.

Screen for Rebel Aid.

"The Soviet government cannot consent to conversion of the non-interference pact into a screen for concealing military assistance rendered the rebels against the government by some participants of the pact," said the statement.

It added: "If violations are not stopped immediately, the Soviet government will free itself from any obligations to the agreement."

Captain Eden will confer in Paris tomorrow with Premier Leon Blum of France concerning Anglo-British action in the new crisis.

Dates of the alleged breaches of the non-intervention accord, listed in the Soviet communication, were expected to prove most important during the committee deliverations. The question was raised whether some arms shipments mentioned in the note might not already have been on the seas, en route to Spanish destinations, when the non-intervention pact went into effect.

Awaits British-French Moves.

(Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press.)

MOSCOW, Oct. 8.—Informed sources said today Soviet Russia hopes Great Britain and France will abandon their "indifference" to alleged violation of the Spanish neutrality pact and take an equally strong position as the bolshevists.

Authoritative sources said the Kremlin was withholding further action, awaiting moves by Great Britain and France.

However, if the powers fail to take a firmer position towards Portugal, Germany and Italy, it was made plain the Soviets will not hesitate to withdraw from the neutrality agreement.

Moscow regards the international situation surrounding the Spanish civil war, basically a conflict between fascism and liberalism, as extremely precarious, today's sources stressed.

It believes a firm stand by France and England to be the only thing which will save the situation from having a disastrous outcome for Spain and possibly for European peace.

Berlin Denies Charges.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The propaganda ministry today emphatically denied Soviet Russia's charges Germany is delivering war material to the Spanish insurgents.

"We have adhered strictly to the non-intervention principle," a communique asserted. "We have delivered neither airplanes nor any other such materials mentioned in the Russian statement."

"BOY How my wife can COOK!"

—that's because she uses a MODERN Electric Range

Once a chore—now a joy! That's the story of cooking in thousands of homes where an Electric Range has been installed. Natural enough, too. No woman can be expected to do a good job without modern conveniences. The old-fashioned stove was uncertain, slow—modern Electric Ranges are dependable and accurate to the last minute of cooking, and the last degree of cooking heat. Time and temperature control not only mean less work but certain results—foods with the flavor left in, not lost through over-long cooking—and it is economical, too.

See the new model Hotpoint Electric Ranges on display at our store. Let us show you how much they save in time, labor and foods. Prices are low, and convenient terms may be arranged for the purchase of any model.

Corsicana And Navarro County

Are Leading The Recovery Of Central Texas

Ample evidence is at hand for even a casual observer to realize that the years of the "depression" are now far behind Corsicana and Navarro county. Only a few unpleasant memories remain, and perhaps the wreckage left by some individual who lacked the prime American virtue of courage. Today the county has a cotton crop that will bring in actual cash of more than five million dollars, a feed crop ample for almost every individual producer, and miscellaneous crops and benefits to put the farmers of the county in the best condition of the past decade or longer. Adjacent counties in Corsicana trade territory are likewise prosperous.

Bank clearings, the most accurate index of modern business, are showing a continual and substantial increase week by week; merchants have regained their old time optimism; the farmers have ceased marveling at the "new deal" that has recognized their ability and value to society for the first time in history and are now settled down to making the most of the new opportunities. Vacancies in desirable rent properties, business houses, homes and apartments, are at a new low level.

Corsicana Bank Clearings Have Regained Parity With 1930 and 1931 Figures.

With unparalleled and unlimited opportunities facing the community and county, there are many common problems which can be easily solved by the presentation of a united front. Selfishness has no place in our modern system.

Corsicana stands ready to join with any community or group in Navarro county in attacking a common problem—realizing that only as the county as a whole progresses can Corsicana enlarge and expand. Citizens and merchants of the city have spent thousands of dollars in the past few years in fighting a battle for the entire county.

Today there are still some problems to be solved: Better highways, better markets, new and modern schools, new industries, care of unfortunates, unemployment, greater business opportunities.

You will be astonished at the number of beauty treatments which can be accomplished by the humble kitchen lemon. Miss Forbes gives some today.

If you have any lemons around the house you can give yourself several beneficial beauty treatments. If lemons cost a great deal of money they would be in constant demand, but as they cost very little, and as we usually have them around the house they are often neglected. Let me suggest some lemon treatments today.

E. K. Forbes

No matter whether your hair is blonde, brunette or red, it will be benefitted by a lemon rinse. This bleaches blonde hair and brings out the golden glints; with dark hair, it brings out high lights which are becoming but which do not alter the color of the hair. No matter what the color it makes the hair soft and glossy, for it takes away the very last particle of soap, leaving the hair really clean. It is a necessity when the hair has been bleached, for the bleaching so softens the texture a clear rinse is impossible if only water is used. It also makes the hair easier to wave. All you need is the juice of a lemon in your last rinse water.

Lemon is invaluable when manicuring. I find it most convenient to keep a small bottle of lemon juice in the bathroom cupboard and to use this around the edges of the nails at least once every day. It is better than cuticle bleach and certainly a lot cheaper. I also save all halves of lemons used in cooking and dig my nails into them whenever I've been doing any work that stains the skin. It is the best and cheapest way I know to acquire those lady-like and lily-white hands that everyone tells us we must have, but that are so extremely difficult when one does any work.

Have you ever tried a lemon bleach for the face and the neck. Squeeze the juice out of a couple of lemons and set it to one side. Grate about a tablespoonful of the rind and the pulp and add this to it. Keep in a bottle and pat over the skin when you have wased your face.

Mrs. G. C.—There is a basic formula for making cold cream, and you may vary it for different purposes if you wish. The proportions of oil, water, and wax should be considered carefully. If you wish a thin cream lessen the amount of wax, although some wax must be included or the mixture becomes a lotion. The more wax, the stiffer the cream; and if you wish a very oily cream, substitute lanolin for oil, either in part, or all of it. The basic formula is intended for an all around cream, and if it calls for "Sweet Almond Oil" for its entire oil content, the cream will be superior to cream made from any other oil whatsoever, even that in which olive oil is used.

K. F.—Possibly, if you gave your scalp and hair an oil treatment some hours before a shampoo, it would correct the dry state and make it possible for you to do a little bleaching. Several tablespoonsful of peroxide to a quart of water used for a final rinse, and poured through the hair over and over again, might be enough of a bleach to keep your hair to the becoming shade. Oil rubs for scalp and hair have changed the attitude toward using peroxide for keeping the hair to a light shade, or for complete bleaching. There is enough oil taken up by the hair shafts to prevent any drying effect, and also give a natural looking lustre to the hair.

M.—Paint or varnish remover will answer for dissolving nail polish if need be.

New Yok Cotton Opens Lower.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 2 to 6 lower on disappointing Liverpool cables and under hedge selling and pre-bureau liquidation, Oct. 11.90; Dec. 11.82; Jan. 11.81; March 11.85; May 11.84; July 11.75.

Trading was fairly active but rather mixed and price changes during the first half hour irregular. October was relatively easy under liquidation influenced by the issuance of notices against 1,800 bales while trade covering in the near months was less active.

The South was an outstanding seller but trade price fixing, Liverpool, Continental and Far Eastern buying as well as short covering helped to absorb contracts.

By the end of the first half hour December had recovered from 11.81 to 11.84 and May from 11.84 to 11.87 leaving the market generally 6 points lower to 1 net higher. Aside from the order for trade accounts, business was largely in the form of evening up before the government crop report at 11 o'clock.

Liverpool reported a quiet market with trade and Liverpool buying meeting liquidation and trade selling.

The government report indicating production of 11,600,000 bales was slightly above expectations and when the market reopened at 11:15 a. m., following a 20-minute adjournment for reception of the report, prices were about 3 to 7 points under levels prevailing at the 10:55 a. m., closing.

Considerable replacement buying developed, however, and prices quickly rallied on net gains of 11 to 20 points with Dec. advancing from an early low of 11.81 to 12.14. Realizing and hedging then apepared to cause partial reactions and Dec. eased to 12.01 with prices generally at mid-day ruling at net gains of 15 to 19 points.

The censu sbureau report showing ginnings of 6,030,040 bales prior to Oct. 1 were regarded as relatively large and possibly indicating that the ueak of the crop movement was rapidly passing.

New Orleans Cotton Advances.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Cotton prices moved up a dollar a bale today on active short covering after announcement of the government's October crop estimate.

While the official estimate of 11,609,000 bales was above trade expectations, shorts who had sold in expectation of a larger estimate immediately started to cover. They found the figure still was relatively small.

Dec. touched 12.10 on the advance, up 20 points from yesterday's final price and March at 12.05 was 19 points higher.

New Orleans Cotton Unsettled.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Last minute liquidation in preparation for the government crop estimate this morning unsettled the cotton market and prices slipped off from 4 to 9 points.

Evening-up operations by traders who wanted to be out of the market when the report was issued supplied more contracts than a light trade demand could absorb.

Oct. opened at 11.86, Dec. at 11.80, Jan. at 11.79 and March at 11.79 and during the first half hour prices fluctuated narrowly around these levels.

Cables from Liverpool were not favorable, the English market reporting a slight trade offtake and an increase in hedge selling.

The trade was waiting for the government estimate. The general impression was that the report would be around 11,500,000 bales.

The market received the government's October crop estimate during the morning and prices advanced around a dollar a bale shortly afterwards.

The figure of 11,609,000 bales was a little above expectations, but shorts who had sold in expectation of a larger estimate covered immediately.

This pushed prices across the 12-cent level in active trading.

Later in the morning the market dropped back again to rule around 50 cents above the previous close with Oct. at 11.94, Dec. at 11.95 and March at 11.91.

Analyzing the report, the trade found their expectations borne out. Most of the 500,000 bale increase over a month ago occurred in the eastern part of the belt and Mississippi also showed a good-sized advance.

RECORD BOOKS MUST BE REWRITTEN AFTER END 'SUBWAY' SERIES

NATIONAL ENTRY APPARENTLY MUST BE REBUILT; YANKS STAND PAT

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The "massacre at the Polo Grounds," perpetrated by the World Champion Yankees with the greatest one-club job of rewriting the record books in series history, left little room for doubt today as to the superiority of "Murderers' Row" in all departments of play over anything the big time has to offer.

Analysis of the 6 game title victory over the Giants which saw more than two score records equalled or surpassed and which alternately hit the heights of brilliance or the depths of dizziness, provides a clear cut picture of a Yankee team head and shoulders over its series rival and possibly headed for another of the runs of prosperity enjoyed under the late Miller Huggins.

Outplaying the National League champions in all departments, as a team and man for man, except at short and behind the bat, the Yankees demonstrated that the senior circuit's crying need to regain championship honors is the development of a "homicide squad" of its own—one that can stand up and slug with the best in the rival circuit, like the Gas House Gang of St. Louis.

Must Rebuild.

The Giants left the field in yesterday's finale, not only beaten soundly, 13 to 5, by another display of the Yanks first degree murder at the plate, but also apparently in need of considerable rebuilding The American Leaguerers, on the other hand, gave every indication of a club just reaching its peak.

With the exception of the performances of Gus Mancuso at catcher and Dick Bartell at short, the Giants were unable to boast of a single equality or superiority over a rival American Leaguer.

In Left Fielder Jake Powell, heavy-hitting hero of the series, with a .455 average, and Right Fielder "Twinkletoes" George Selkirk, who banged out two homers and hit for .333, McCarthy has discovered a pair of players capably filling the shoes of Ruth and his one-time slugging mate, Bob Meusel.

Powell stands out with Tony Lazzeri as the series hero.

Pitching Is Surprise.

The most unexpected turn of affairs came with the pitching, where the Yanks wound up with a decisive margin over the staff headed by the great Carl Hubbell. And therein probably lies the secret of the series success for the Yanks.

Lefty (Goofy) Gomez, leading the way with two victories, headed a set of surprisingly fair Yankee pitchers.

In the infield, particularly, the Giants were woefully on the short end by any sort of comparison. The series, undoubtedly, marked the end of the playing days of Manager Bill Terry at first and Field Captain Travis Jackson at third.

Jackson, committing three errors, was the "weak sister" of the inner defense and pretty much the series goat. Terry was beyond doubt the gamest player on the field, but an ailing knee and the additional worries of his managerial post, made his replacement for next year almost a certainty.

Center Field Even.

The battle for center field rookie honors between the Yanks "Deadpan" Joe DiMaggio and the Giants' Jim Ripple, provided an interesting sidelight, but wound up about even. DiMaggio played in six games to Ripples' four complete contests, and batted .346 to .333 for the National Leaguer. Ripple, however, provided the more sensational work afield.

The aggregate receipts of $1,-204,399 topped by $100,000 the previous high taken in for the 1926 Cardinals-Yankees series, and the total attendance of 302,924 was 1,500 over the former largest six-game turnout in the 1923 Yanks-Giants meeting, although falling short of the series high recorded the seven game title tilt of 1926.

DALLAS, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Three bonds of $5,000 each on charges of negligent homicide, driving while intoxicated and failure to stop and render aid were set today against George O. Richards, 32, of Rowlett, in connection with the death of George Zsediedrick, 27, of Texarkana, Ark., Tuesday night.

Police said Richards' car and Zsediedrick's motorcycle crashed at a street intersection. Zsediedrick's body was hurled 77 feet from his motorcycle, striking a curb which crushed his head. Richards was arrested later near the scene of the accident. Officers said the found him under the Mill creek bridge.

Steel Industry In Best Position In Seven Years

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Steel companies enter the final quarter of the year with the largest unfilled orders since 1929, "Iron Age" said today in its weekly review of the industry.

"In one respect," the trade journal says, "the situation is more favorable than in that boom period because recent commitments do not include the speculative purchases that then existed. Heavy ordering in the past week has brought another increase in steel ingot output to 75 1-2 per cent, a new top for the year."

GIANTS CRUSHED UNDER BARRAGE OF HITS AND SCORES

SMALLEST CROWD OF THE SERIES SAW THE AMERICAN LEAGUERS WIN TITLE

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Yankees won the first all-Manhattan world series in thirteen years by four games to two today, crushing the Giants again in a record-breaking sixth game finale, 13 to 5, before a crowd of 38,427, the smallest of the series.

The battering American leaguers, winning the 20th series for their circuit against 13 for the National league, climaxed the day and the series by scoring seven runs in the ninth, breaking their own record for ninth inning rallies, set at six in the second game.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Yankees hammered Fred Fitzsimmons out of the box in the third inning of the sixth game today, taking a 5 to 2 lead in their drive to the final victory they need in the 1936 world series. Clyde Castleman, young right hander took up the Giants pitching burden against the erratic Yankee left hander, Vernon Gomez.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK Oct. 6.—(AP)—Jake Powell's long home run into the left field stands after George Selkirk's booming triple pulled the Yankees up to a 2 to 2 tie with the Giants in the second inning today as the American league champions sought to close out the world series in the sixth game.

A two run burst off Lefty Gomez in the first inning evaporated suddenly in the Yanks half of the second.

Selkirk smashed a tremendous triple into the Giant bull pin in right center. Powell nailed a fast ball on the nose, driving it high and far into the left field stands for the ninth home run of the series, the seventh for the Yankees.

OFFICERS SEEKING DRIVER OF CAR THAT INJURED NEGRESS

City and precinct officers Thursday were still seeking the identity and whereabouts of a man who is alleded to have been driving the automobile that left Highway 75 at the intersection of East Thirteenth avenue Wednesday afternoon about 1:15 o'clock and knocked Lila Faye Moody, negress, to the pavement, inflicting serious shoulder and other injuries.

Police Chief Bruce Nutt and Deputy Constable Jake Nutt answered the call. The abandoned automobile was a 1934 Chevrolet, four door, and was equipped with Nevada and Texas license plates. One tire was blown out by the impact, the officers reported. The car was stored in a local garage.

A Texas drivers' license issued to Amos B. Haygood of Wink, Texas, was on the steering wheel of the car, Deputy Constable Nutt reported. but officers are at a loss to know whether Haygood was the driver or whether the car might have been stolen.

TRAINING BARN IS PROVIDING QUARTERS FOR TWENTY HORSES

STROUBE PERSONALLY SUPERVISING IMPROVEMENTS AT SHOW PLACE

By PAUL MOORE,
Sun Sports Editor.

"Melody Meadows," stock farm belonging to W. C. Stroube, east of Corsicana, is the scene of much activity this week as scores of workmen rush to completion the new training barn, a 52x148 foot building equipped with accommodations for twenty horses.

Eight yearling racers, a brood mare and a colt arrived Wednesday and were unloaded at Powell and brought to the farm. These horses were recently purchased by Stroube while at Saratoga and were shipped here from Kentucky.

The new barn, the largest training barn ever erected in Navarro county, is situated east of the two barns previously erected at the fine plant for the stock of Stroube and Corsicana Stables. The roof is red, with the main portion of the building white, trimmed in blue.

Water System.

Stroube recently drilled a water well at Melody Meadows insuring an adequate water supply. Several holes were made before the fine water stream was encountered. An electric pump insures adequate pressure at all times. The water is piped to the various buildings on the grounds and the barns are equipped with electric lights. The drilling of the water well will remove the necessity for the contemplated construction of a large lake on the premises.

The two barns erected months ago are now being used for the race horses and the saddle animals. These two older barns have several acre corrals leading to each stable.

Paved Roads.

Roads within Melody Meadows have been graveled after being graded up and the road leading from the establishment and showplace is due to be graveled in the near future, giving an all-weather road to Highway 31.

With the construction of the huge new barn, persons seeking Melody Meadows will have little difficulty in finding their way as the building is plainly visible from the highway, a considerable distance from the headquarters.

Included in the new barn which will be finished early next week will be a room for a keeper. Other improvements including a house for the manager may be constructed later.

SUPREME COURT OF TEXAS GRANTS WRIT ERROR IN OIL SUIT

ACTION INSTITUTED BY GOVERNOR FOR OUSTER BIG CONCERN STILL ALIVE

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Supreme Court granted a writ of error today in the State's suit instituted by Governor James V. Allred when he was attorney general to oust 15 major oil companies from Texas for alleged violation of anti-trust laws.

The action meant the court would review lower court judgments which threw out the suit and held Texas anti-trust laws unconstitutional.

The court refused a writ and upheld judgment of the court of civil appeals which had sustained the validity of an order of the railroad commission reducing gate rates of the Lone Star Gas Company from 40 cents to 32 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

It was the first formal sitting of the court since the summer recess.

The ouster suit named as defendants the Standard Oil of New Jersey, the Standard of New York, the Standard of California, the Shell Union Oil Corporation, the Humble Oil and Refining Company, the Texas Company, Gulf Refining Company, Pasotex Petroleum, Continental Oil Company, Sinclair Refining Company, Magnolia Petroleum Company, Simms Oil Company, Shell Petroleum Company, Simms Oil Company, Cities Service Oil Company, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company, The Texas Petroleum Marketers Associations and the American Petroleum Institute.

Allred charged conspiracy to control the marketing of gasoline and petroleum products and destroy independent filling station operators.

In district court, the state's suit was dismissed by Judge C. A. Wheeler, on grounds the national recovery act superseded state anti-trust laws.

The state appealed and about a year ago the court of civil appeals held the trial court judgment correct. It ruled also the anti-trust laws were unconstitutional because they exempted farmers and stock-raisers and therefore were "discrimination" forbidden by the 14th amendment.

The state's application for writ of error has been pending since June, 1935. Action by the supreme court probably will be delayed a long time.

A notation by the court said the writ was granted "because of the importance of the question."

Governor Allred said he was "gratified" at the court's action and believed "a review was highly justified by the importance of the issues involved."

The court also refused to disturb a lower court ruling upholding the commission's reduction of the Laredo gas rate. The United Gas company was the appellant in that case.

A case involving the gate rate at Spearman charged by the Public Service Corporation of Texas was sent back to the trial court here with instructions that it inquire into the reasonableness of a 27-cent rate.

The commission set the rate at not to exceed 27 cents but in the resulting court contest the trial court sustained demurrers on both sides and on each refusing to amend, dismissel the proceedings.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to review litigation involving title to about 260 acres of land in the heart of the rich Yates oil field of West Texas.

It granted writs of error sought by the Stanolind Oil and Gas company and several other defendants sued by the state, whose claim the land was vacant was overruled by the district court at Pecos.

The El Paso Court of Civil Appeals reversed the trial court, sending the case back for new hearing.

The State also claims more than $1,000,000 worth of oil produced from the land.

Hears Extradition Arguments.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The court of criminal appeals heard arguments today on extradition of A. C. Taylor, charged in Tennessee with conspiracy to evade the gasoline tax.

The trial court at Fort Worth ordered Taylor extradited. The appellate court probably will make its decision this month.

Brag About Corn, Then Offer Proof

ALEDO, Ill., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Western Illinois and Eastern Iowa farmers are arguing again about where the "tall corn" grows.

At the Boultinghouse farm, near here, Col. E. and J. L. Boultinghouse found a stalk 11 feet and four inches tall. They challenged anyone in Iowa to beat it.

Harry Crouch, a tall corn grower of near Knoxville, Iowa, quickly came to the rescue of his state. He produced a stalk 13 feet two inches tall.

Crouch was not hesitant in pointing out that his corn was grown in the drought area. Said Crouch: "Why, Iowa can grow taller corn without water than Illinois can with rain every other day."

ATTACKS GOVERNOR FOR FAILURE CALL LEGISLATURE SOONER

SENATE REFUSES TO ADOPT MOVE MAKE PUBLIC APPOINTMENT TESTIMONY

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene attacked Governor Allred for not calling a legislative session earlier and criticized the old age pension administration in spirited argument today on the house floor.

Debate was precipitated by a recommendation of the pension inquiry steering committee that pension rolls be curtailed.

Urging the house not to adopt the steering committee's report, Bradbury said the governor should have called the special session to raise revenues six months ago to pay all persons entitled to pensions.

"As it is, there is grave danger that pension payments may be stopped for 12 months," he said. "The legislature may either refuse to levy sufficient new taxes or may fail to pass them by majorities sufficient to make them immediately effective.

"Orville S Carpenter, state pension director, was saying that there would be enough revenues to support pension payments until January 1 when anyone should have been able to see that we would have to have more money before that date.

"If you restrict pensions to sixty or seventy thousand people, you'll be giving them to negroes and 'poor white trash' and the persons who have formed the backbone of this country will be left out."

The high percentage of administrative expenses in Texas also was stressed by the Abilene representative.

The senate refused to adopt immediately a resolution to make available to the public testimony heard in the governor's appointments committee in the investigation of the state liquor board. The resolution was referred to committee.

Would Cut Number Texas Pensioners

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Recommendation that Texas' old age assistance law be revised to reduce the number of pensioners was before the house of representatives today.

Chairman A. T. McKinney of the house pension inquiry committee said he would ask adoption of a report to that effect, though a change in the statutes cannot be considered in the present special session.

Federal authorities testified that Texas was attempting to care for one third of its aged while other states were limiting their quotas to one fifth. Orville S. Carpenter, state director of old age assistance, said there were 80,770 pensioners and estimated a total of 147,000 unless the statutes were changed. The committee report suggested that the law, in effect, limit the number to 80,000.

Speaker Coke Stevenson remained firm in his opinion that the proposal to use $3,000,000 of highway funds to meet pension needs until new revenue comes in was out of order on grounds of unconstitutionality. The senate has sent the house a bill abolishing the permanent pension fund, making available immediately $446,000.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred today reaffirmed his policy of holding the legislature to its revenue raising program rather than consider such proposals as amending the law to reduce the number of pensioners.

The govenor also renewed his demand for transfer of $3,000,000 of highway funds to carry pension payments through the winter.

"Unless something is done," he said, "we will face a desperate and pathetic situation by Christmas and it may revert back to local relief for the aged who cannot work."

He challenged the statements of opponents of the diversion of funds, saying he believed the federal aid road construction program would not lose by the plan.

The governor also declined requests to submit local bills.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The senate, in executive session, today confirmed Governor Allred's appointments to the board of directors of the Sulphur River Conservation and Reclamation District and G. Fred Turner of Cooper as a member of the state barber board.

It did not, however, confirm members of the state liquor board who have been questioned in a committee investigation of the board's administration.

BAFFLING LORIUS DISAPPEARANCE CASE IN LIMELIGHT AGAIN

SUSPECT BEING HELD IN DALLAS AFTER PLEADING GUILTY UNDER DYER ACT

DALLAS, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Federal bureau of investigation agents held today a man they said they have sought for more than a year in the baffling disappearance of four Illinois turists from near Albuquerque, N. M., in May, 1935.

Authoritative sources said pictures of the suspect had been identified several times as the man who cashed travelers checks of Mr. and Mrs. George Lorius and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer shortly after disappearance of the two couples.

It was understood leads followed by the bureau pointed to the man as the transporter of the Lorius automobile to Dallas where it was deserted on a downtown street.

Frank Blake, chief of the bureau here, would not discuss the case beyond admitting the suspect had been sought for many months.

The suspect was brought to Dallas from St. Louis late yesterday and pleaded guilty today before Federal Judge William H. Atwell to transporting a stolen automobile from here to Tennessee.

Judge Atwell sentenced him to a year and a day on the charge. A federal agent then interceded and told Judge Atwell the man had been brought here primarily in connection with the Lorius case and asked the judge to hold him here.

The agent said he wanted the man viewed by those who had cashed the travelers checks.

Officers have detained a number of suspects previously but all were released when available evidence failed to link them with the mystery.

The four tourists were last seen at Vaughn, New Mexico, in May, 1935. They mailed postcards from Albuquerque, and, some time later, charred remains of what was believed to be their clothing were found on the mesa east of Albuquerque.

An automobile driven by the tourists was frequently reported thereafter, driven by a man who scattered a series of travelers' checks, signed with Lorius' name, along his trial to Dallas. The car was abandoned in Dallas.

BOLT LIGHTNING STRIKES GRIDDERS DURING PRACTICE

HIGH SCHOOL CO-CAPTAIN KILLED; TEN OTHERS INJURED BY FLASH

CANTON, O., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Football practice at Lehman High school was called off today because a bolt of lightning killed Co-Captain Don Correll, 18, sent Coach Jimmy Robinson to the hospital with his left leg paralyzed and injured ten others.

A game Friday was also postponed.

The bolt struck late yesterday just after Coach Robinson called for "a couple more plays." One team was lined up on the defensive while the other was huddled around Robinson, receiving instructions for the play.

Without warning the flash came, flattening the entire first squad. Hands flew into the air and all fell to the ground, stunned.

"Our legs went bad" said Jack Chatterson, 17, the team's other co-captain.

"Coach Robinson was standing beside me. He yelled when the lightning struck. As soon as we could, we started carrying the boys to cars nearby.

"I thought I was clipped," said John Haupt, varsity right halfback. "I didn't know what hit me. Everything went black.

"When I came to, I looked around and saw Don Correll lying on the ground. He was very still and his face was blue. All the other boys on the team were lying on the ground. Some of them were moaning."
